WANTS SLATE PLEDGED TO KANSAN

California's Governor Says Hasn't Time to Seek Nomination

SACRAMENTO, March 10. (AP) Governor Merriam announced today his intention to support Governor Landon for the Republican presidential nomination. He will not seek or accept a position as a delegate, but will go to any "reasonable" lengths to aid in the election of delegates pledged to the Kansas governor.

In a statement which he dictated at his press conference, the California executive said: "It is not difficult or illogical for me to support Governor Landon, he being the only other Republican governor in the western part of the United States and one of the few in the entire country."

For industrial group He reiterated his intention to favor an instructed delegation to the Cleveland convention, and revealed that friends who had worked in his behalf as a potential candidate had been given places on the slate of delegates which will be committed to Landon.

Governor Merriam's statement said, further:

"While there's no obligation on my part, I will join my friends in any reasonable undertaking."

"No Time to Spare" "My decision to encourage further efforts to put a delegation in the field instructed for me was influenced greatly by the tremendous amount of work in the governor's office."

"I could not see where I could spare the time to enter into the campaign or a contest as seemed to be developing."

LANSON SLATE IN MAY PRIMARIES LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP) Key figures in the Merriam state administration joined today a movement to win California's support for Gov. Alfred E. Landon of Kansas as a Republican presidential candidate.

Ross Marshall, Southern California manager of Landon supporters' campaign, said a slate pledged to the Kansas governor would be entered in the state presidential primary May 5. Coincident with Marshall's statement, prominent adherents of Governor Merriam for President threw in their strength with the Landon organization.

50 COME TO GERMAN'S AID Balboa Wants Witten Back

Balboa wants Alexander Christian Boeligen, alias Alexander C. Witten, held here on charges of illegal entry into this country from Germany, back again.

A petition signed by 50 of Balboa's business men and private citizens was received by the board of supervisors this morning asking that Boeligen be allowed to take out first citizenship papers and be released from custody, as he was a "good citizen."

The suspect was arrested last month by Immigration Inspector Franklin Davis on the illegal entry charge, after sheriff's deputies had been investigating rumors that he

Said to be a member of the notorious Purple gang, pale, bullet-ridden Thomas Walker Craemer, 25-year-old Detroit bad man, is going up the river again.

Yesterday afternoon in superior court he was convicted of two felonies, assault with a deadly weapon, and possession of a firearm by a felon.

On last Oct. 28 he staggered out of a Seal Beach alley with a bullet through his chest and another through his shoulder. Police Officer Ervin Glenn, having heard shots, accosted him.

Felled by Officer The wounded man clutched out a gun with two notches in the butt, fired twice. Glenn, unhurt, fired once, felled the man and then shouted for help.

He was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital, where attendants tried to find out what had happened. With true bad man stoicism he refused to "squeal." He never has "squealed," although at his trial yesterday Prosecutor James L. Davis said one of Seal Beach's gambling barons had shot him when the Detroit man had attempted to hijack an evening's "take."

Convicted Before It was brought out that he had been convicted of highway robbery in Detroit and sentenced to five years, three of which he had served; that his gun was notched, and that he was a killer and a menace to society.

His attorneys, Alvin Drumm and J. B. Tucker, tried to stem the tide, and turn the sentiment of the jury.

N.Y. WALKOUT FARM LABOR IS GROWING PLANS LAID

'Big Push' Is Begun by Leaders in Building Service Strike

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP) Under the opening salvo of the building workers' "big push," William D. Rawlins, executive secretary of the realty advisory board on labor relations, said today his group is ready to accept any reasonable agreement which will work to eliminate abuses and standard conditions in the industry.

Rawlins declared that "the union is no longer fighting for the men but for power to crush the city."

Two hours after the lid was declared off, following 10 days of fruitless arbitration, the union announced that its strike had affected about 900 additional buildings in the vital Grand Central area of the city.

Seven thousand men, Union Leader James B. Bambrick estimated, walked out during the two hours. Bambrick sets the figure of total buildings affected at 4200, which was far in excess of police estimates.

Approve Bill for 4000 U. S. Planes WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) The house military affairs committee meeting in executive session today unanimously approved the McSwain bill authorizing construction of 4000 new airplanes within the next five years.

Under existing law, authorization is provided for a maximum of only 1500 planes. The war department appropriation bill which has passed the house and is now pending in the senate provides funds for buying 565 planes in the next fiscal year.

Pension Inquiry Scope Broadened WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) Without a dissenting vote, the house today adopted a resolution broadening the scope and authority of its special bi-partisan committee named to investigate the Townsend and other old age pension movements.

Woman Killed by Washing Machine NAPA, March 10. (AP) Mrs. Mary Patterson, 37, was killed by her washing machine yesterday, apparently when a lock of her hair caught in the wringer and she pulled the machine over on her head, forcing it upon her chest and suffocating her.

A bakery wagon driver who called to get her order shortly before noon found her, with the electric washing machine still running.

The music was going 'round and around and over the air and—Flash!

The world sat up in its chair to listen to the announcement. "A terrific earthquake has just hit Southern California at 5:55 p. m. The building is rocking. Scores of people killed. Brick and mortar are falling in the streets. . . . There was another quake! Stand by for further details. . . ."

Three years ago today. People pouring out of their homes in Santa Ana—sidewalks weaving like ocean waves. For the first few moments a deep hush as shocked citizens tried to realize what had happened. Then excitement and turmoil as the knowledge came that there had been a major disaster.

Cutten Indicted For Tax Evasion

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—An indictment charging Arthur W. Cutten, famous grain trader, with the "wilful attempt to defeat and evade an income tax" for 1929, amounting to $414,525.54, was returned by the federal grand jury today.

Cutten, self-styled "speculator," was called "the nation's biggest grain trader" in hearings before the grain futures administration, which a year ago issued an order disbaring him from American grain pits.

The blast of a bomb echoed through the city. Ten minutes later members of the American Legion post were beginning to patrol the city and in half an hour 300 of them were on duty in the emergency.

FORUM PLAN APPROVED

Outstanding Educational Project Is Advocated for Santa Ana

The board of education last night approved a plan for making Santa Ana and Orange county one of the outstanding educational areas in the nation. The plan approved calls for establishment here of a national forum project. Launching of the program would give this county the distinction of being one of 10 communities in the nation where such projects are under way.

The projects have been offered by Dr. J. W. Studebaker, national commissioner of education. Final selection of localities for the projects has not been made. There are now 28 communities under consideration, from which the 10 will be selected.

Sacramento Suggested Sacramento is the only other city in California which has been suggested for the scheme.

Louis E. Plummer, president of the Orange County High School Principals' association, has called a meeting of high school principals here tonight to discuss the project and reach a conclusion regarding it.

Considerable communication on the matter has taken place between Dr. Studebaker and School Superintendent Frank Henderson. Mr. Henderson told the board of education last night that if Orange county becomes one of the forum centers, $20,250 will be available. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Italians Resume Ethiopian Warfare

ASMARA, Eritrea, March 10. (AP)—Fascist troops carried on today with humdrum war-time maneuvers after a day of peace and celebration which the high command insisted was not an armistice.

The one-day suspension of offensive movements was ordered ostensibly to await developments on the newest League of Nations' peace move, ended yesterday, and was followed by a new clean-up action in the Tembien mountain region and penetrations beyond Amba Alagi, last important seizure by the northern Italian armies.

Fascist airplanes were reported cruising far into unconquered territory, with new bombardments believed planned.

Score Killed in Spanish Riots

GRANADA, Spain, March 10. (AP)—From seven to 20 persons were killed today in a series of clashes between extremists and police.

Extremists called a general strike, paralyzing the industry of the city.

A chocolate factory was burned when the management refused to obey strike orders. The offices of the rightist newspaper, "Ideal," were wrecked. A monarchist-owned theater was virtually destroyed and a number of cafes and restaurants owned by rights were pillaged.

NAZI PLANES MENACE METZ, France. — France's general staff debated today "strong measures" to prevent German planes from flying over French frontier fortifications. The public pronouncements of Britain's prime minister Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were declared by foreign office spokesmen to be a cause for satisfaction after responsible German officials first took an opportunity to study yesterday's house of commons debate.

"The main thing is that the British cabinet will seriously consider the German proposals," a high foreign office official said.

Dempsey Baby Still Guarded

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—A 19-months-old baby, Joan Hannah Dempsey, with a smile very much like her father's, was back in New York today after a week-end trip to Atlantic City, and near her crib was stationed an agent of the department of justice.

Her father, Jack, the former heavyweight boxing champion, expressed a contempt for kidnappers, real or imagined, with whom the baby was reported to have been threatened in a series of letters. He announced he had received three threatening letters, but had kept the news from his wife for three weeks.

KAISER'S ARMY ON MARCH? Report Frightens Peasants

STRASBOURG, France, March 10. —Praying women and children stirred by reports that resurrected remnants of Kaiser Wilhelm are on the march in the Rhineland, crowded the parish churches of French frontier provinces today.

As France poured thousands of new fighting men into the Maginot line of fortifications and manned great anti-aircraft guns along the frontier hills from Belgium to Switzerland, the people of Strasbourg heard rumors that old imperial regiments, stationed in Alsace before 1914, have been revived in Adolf Hitler's Rhineland army.

COMPROMISE WITH PARIS PROPOSED

Eden Offers 'Military Guarantees' if France Will Negotiate

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) PARIS, March 10. —A reliable source reported tonight that Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, had offered France "strong military guarantees" if she will negotiate with Germany.

The exact nature of the proposal was not defined. It was stated that Eden had proposed a compromise following a telephonic conversation with Prime Minister Baldwin at 6:30 p. m.

Eden, it was said, told Pierre-Etienne Flandin, the French foreign minister, that the British were resolved that Germany must be brought back into the League of Nations "at any cost."

The intimation that such an offer had been made followed a split between France and Great Britain on the method of dealing with the international emergency which has arisen through Germany's sending troops into the Rhineland, the British refusing to follow the proposed French strong course of action.

France Against Negotiations Great Britain suggested negotiations with Reichsfuehrer Hitler on his proposals for new peace treaties.

France declared against negotiations so long as the troops remained along the French frontier. Great Britain refused to entertain the idea troops must be removed before friendly discussions could be undertaken.

Belgium and Italy sided with France.

Pierre-Etienne Flandin, French foreign minister, first broached the subject of combined action, within the League of Nations, to force German troops away from the border, at a conference of representatives of Great Britain, Belgium and Italy.

He declared France would negotiate only if the troops were evacuated. He suggested that if Germany refused, the four nations join in asking the league council to act.

COMPLETION OF SAN CLEMENTE AND DOHENY PARKS ASSURED

APPROVAL OF PROJECTS IS RECEIVED

Fund for Development Allocated; Work to Start on Monday

Completion of development of the San Clemente and Doheny state parks was assured today. Work of improving the areas will start Monday, it was announced today by Dan Mulholland, director of the Works Progress administration here.

Mr. Mulholland today received final approval and allocation of funds for reopening the San Clemente transient camp, whose members will do the park development work.

One hundred local men will be quartered at the San Clemente camp. They will be in the main single men who are being dropped from the WPA case load in accordance with federal orders. Part of these men already have been sent to the Orange and Silverado transient camps.

U. S. Aid $61,848
The federal government will provide $61,848 for the project, while the state will put up $2564. The San Clemente park contains 100 acres, and has 6300 feet of beach frontage. Doheny park contains 46 acres. The development will include landscaping, tree planting, installation of 2000 feet of water lines, 25 picnic stoves, 25 trailer unit compounds, laundry and rest rooms. A number of picnic places already have been built.

Important Parks
The San Clemente and Doheny parks are regarded as two of the most important recreational parks in this district.

The letter announcing approval of the project and allocation of funds came from R. M. Gregory, assistant director to the chief engineer of the WPA in this district.

Craemer sat stolidly, a white, hunched-up, pain-ridden man. When he tried to put him on the stand he said his heart hurt too badly. He let the district attorney's damaging story stand. "No matter what I was trying to do in that alley," he said. "They got me, didn't they. I'll take it."

Vain Appeal
Attorney Drumm voiced a vain appeal for mercy. Prosecutor Davis thundered for a conviction. "We got two of the Purple gang here when they robbed a Penney's messenger," he said. "We'll get another now."

The gangster smiled with set, white lips and let the jury take his case. "Sure, I had a gun," his manner said, "and I was shot and I tried to kill a cop. So what?"

Out 18 Minutes
The jury was out only 18 minutes, then came in with a verdict of guilty to both counts. Each conviction carries a maximum sentence of 10 years. The least he can serve, under the law for second offenders, is six and a half years.

Yesterday he coughed and struggled as they carried him to the jail again. It won't be long, they say, until he pays his debt to society once and for all; a year in the "big house" will kill the little fellow with the bullet holes in him.

TO ASK PWA AID FOR GROVE PARK

A project calling for the beautification of three lots in Garden Grove owned by the Orange County Water District No. 3, to be used as a city park by Garden Grove, will be submitted soon to the Public Works administration.

The board of supervisors this morning adopted a resolution calling for the action, on request of the city and the water district. It is understood that a park will not be created, but an existing plot will be beautified.

senate to assert the French position. At the same time, Premier Albert Sarraut went to the chamber of deputies to make a public appeal to the members of the league to "fight for peace."

He proclaimed his government's determination to get a clear and precise decision on "the agonizing problems of the strength of right against might."

At the same time Yvon Delbos, minister of justice, made a similar plea to the senate.

Takes Hitler's Cue
Premier Sarraut declared that if Reichsfuehrer Hitler was justified in violating the Locarno treaty, "then we must turn resolutely toward military alliances and armament races and, let us admit it frankly, to war made by the strong when the time favors."

Taking his cue from Hitler, "who spoke to the French people over the head of their government," Sarraut talked "to the German people."

He asked the Germans "if you would have confidence in France signing new treaties if she had just torn up old ones? How, then, can the French have confidence in the fresh negotiations that Germany proposes?"

The premier declared that France "does not refuse negotiations that make for peace in the future," but "cannot treat when dominated by violence and when signatures are repudiated."

During the three-hour conference of Locarno signatories preceding the parliamentary session, Anthony Eden, the British foreign secretary, argued for a thorough examination of Hitler's peace offers before any drastic steps be considered in the League of Nations.

Eden and the other two conferees, Premier Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium and Ambassador Vittorio Corruiti of Italy, heard Flaminio uphold the stand of Albert Sarraut, France's premier, that France would refuse "to negotiate under a menace."

The French representative demanded the German army be withdrawn from the Rhineland before any negotiations should be undertaken with Hitler.

The four conferees and their 22 advisers agreed that there would be no decision until they met at Geneva Friday just before the League of Nations' council session.

PARENTS DEMAND $15,699.60 FOR KILLING OF SON

Damages amounting to $15,699.60 are asked by the parents of Jeffrey Vilott, Fullerton, who was killed in an automobile accident Sept. 23, from Lawrence Raggio, asserted to be the driver of the car, in a suit opened in superior court this morning. The plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. ## CITE 40 FOR BAD LIGHTS ON AUTOS

Officers of the Orange county division of the California Highway Patrol last night issued 40 citations to motorists whose cars had faulty lights. Approximately half of the offenders were driving cars with either one headlight out or a taillight out.

In commenting today on the lighting problem in relation to cars, Captain Henry C. Meehan expressed the belief that glaring lights are much more dangerous than cars with only one light showing. He explained that where as it is possible to keep out of the way of a "one-eyed" car, it is frequently impossible for a driver to watch the road when confronted by a pair of blinding headlights.

Ten members of the patrol, including Captain Meehan, set up their light-testing screen on Santa Ana boulevard last night, and tested lights between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. Drivers whose cars were suspected of having faulty lights were asked to "run the gauntlet," their lights were tested, and if they were found faulty, the driver was cited to appear before Justice of the Peace K. E. Morrison next Monday.

SHOE SHOP WILL REPLACE TURF AGENCY IN S. A.

Instead of tacking bets on fast nags, folks will be nailing soles on shoes at 504 North Main street in the near future. The Santa Ana Turf Agency, which will vacate the place soon, will give way to a fully electrically equipped shoe reconditioning plant. There will be wires attached to the equipment, but they will not be leased wires reaching to any race track.

In fact, the shoe business will be something entirely new and will have nothing to do with race horses—not even race horses' shoes.

Ray Goodcell, local realtor, said today that George Honore, an eastern shoe reconditioning expert, has leased the quarters for 10 years. The lease starts April 1. In the meantime operators of the turf agency are confident they will find another suitable location soon.

Approval of projects for the National Youth administration program in Orange county was awaited today as registration of applicants for NYA jobs was completed. Fred P. Jayne, head of the professional, technical and women workers division of the Works Progress administration, said today that a registration of approximately 200 young men and women was expected.

The NYA movement will provide part-time jobs for persons between 16 and 25 years of age who are members of families on WPA or state relief administration lists. Approval of the NYA work projects is expected here daily. A boys' band, already in operation, is one of the projects. Others for which approval is awaited are projects in the Santa Ana and Orange school districts.

The program called for about 300 persons, but Mr. Jayne said he did not expect the registration to pass the 200 mark.

BUILDERS WILL DINE TONIGHT

"Better Light—Better Sight" will be the topic of an address by Richard Buckley, from the incandescent lamp division of General Electric corporation, before members of the Orange County Builders' exchange at Laguna Beach tonight.

Entertainment, including an Hawaiian orchestra and demonstrations of magic, are planned for the meeting, which will open with a dinner in the White House cafe at 6:30 p. m.

Federal Land Bank at Berkeley.
An amendment to the farm credit administration act would be necessary to put the change into effect. All five of the directors now come up for re-election annually. The local board suggested three-year terms. In launching such a plan, two members would serve for one year, two for two years and one for three years. After that all terms would be for three years, with some expiring each year on the staggered basis.

BOARD DELUGED BY JUNK MEN

Snowed under by a deluge of requests for junk dealer licenses, the board of supervisors today washed its hand of the problem when it could not decide who should be licensed, and turned the whole matter over to the county planning commission.

Ten applications were received in the unprecedented rush to deal in junk. The board appointed the planning commission to act as an investigating body, and to recommend possible courses of action in the future.

Plans for addition of 28 persons to the payroll of the Works Progress administration furniture and toy repair project operating at 1248 South Main street were announced today by Fred J. Payne, head of the professional, technical and women workers division of the WPA.

There are at present 12 women and nine men on the job. As soon as new materials arrive the staff will be increased to 49 persons.

The purpose of the project is to repair and repaint furniture of relief families and to repair and repaint donated toys and furniture. It is hoped that sufficient toys will be donated and repaired by Christmas to be of material aid in making it a happy season for relief families, Mr. Payne said today.

BURGLARS TAKE $8 AND ICE CREAM

Burglars who entered the Newport Beach high school during the week-end obtained approximately $8 in cash, several cartons of ice cream and a collection of Indian head pennies, according to a report by Deputy Sheriff R. R. Lutes, bureau of identification.

The money was stolen from a drawer in the vice principal's office, and the ice cream from the school cafeteria. Entrance to the building was gained by removing a screen from a window and forcing the latch.

8 AND 40 MEETS IN ANAHEIM HOME

Eight and Forty members rallied in the home of Alice Hedson, Anaheim, for a duck dinner last night with the hostess "bringing the ducks."

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be March 20 and 21 at 114 East Fourth street, and for a dance to be April 18 in Fullerton.

Present were Ellen Reeves, Marie Kennedy, Dennis Black, Paula Curlett, Edna Frandson, Frances Sullivan, Gladys Young, Inez Haiber and Yuanda Akerman.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

FRIDAY is going to be a big day at Brea.

After trying for 10 years, the woman's club there has finally built a clubhouse. They're happy, and are going to stage a huge community celebration to dedicate the new structure.

They've had quite a time getting money for their building. It's valued at $14,000, so you can easily see why they had to do some hustling to raise their share of the building funds. WPA and SERA helped out a bit, but they've raised a lot of that money themselves, with the Lions club helping out. The high spot in their money raising program was the community concert given last year, in which they added $700 to the fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hay, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Neuls, Howard Robinson, Mrs. J. D. Goodwin, Mrs. Earl Rodger and Mrs. Glenn Curtis have been the hardest workers for the new building. They're happy, now that the new club building has been finished.

They've even built a stage at one end of the structure. And they have a patio, where they're going to put brick umbrellas and garden chairs in summer. A kitchen was thrown in for good measure, and the outside of the building stuccoed to match the civic buildings across the street.

It's a fine looking building, and the women are to be congratulated.

Incidentally, the club has been very active since it was started in 1925. Members immediately started working with the chamber of commerce in their town, sponsoring a campaign for city beautification and saw to it that everything planted shrubs and trees and kept their sidewalks clean.

On top of that, they've also sponsored a baby clinic, a city library, and a couple of years ago they gave the city a bird aviary and lily pond for the new park.

They've earned a rest, now, but we imagine they'll be busy doing something else for the good of the community as soon as the new building is thoroughly dedicated.

Did you read about the one-man election they're going to have at Seal Beach soon?

Seems that one San Aravitis, who lives across the street from Seal Beach, wants to annex his patch of ground to the city, so he can get sewer and water connections, as the first step in erecting a business building.

He's faced with a very unusual situation. He'll have to circulate a petition asking the change, and sign it himself. When the city council acts on the proposition, he'll then vote on the annexation.

We've been worrying. Suppose he has an argument with himself, and refuses to sign the petition? Or makes a mistake, and votes the wrong way?

Whichever way he acts, it's going to be a 100 per cent vote, anyway, which isn't so bad for a place the size of Seal Beach.

Not satisfied with "scooping" the rest of Southern California and having Admiral Byrd make his first appearance in Fullerton, the junior chamber of commerce there is planning bigger and better things.

Under leadership of Wee Willie Queale, the organization is now scratching its collective head figuring on how to raise $1500 to send the Fullerton water polo team to New York to try out for the Olympic games.

Even the ambitious Fullertonites admit that $1,500 is a lot of money, but they're determined to raise it. One of the tentative suggestions is a dinner at which they'll charge $10 a plate. Hope they have special tickets for the press. Our suggestion is 10c a plate for newspaperers.

Bill Gallienne is all excited over the future of Huntington Beach, especially if residents favor either a band shell or a recreation hall at the municipal elections April 14.

Here's the way Bill reasons, and we're inclined to agree with him: at present, many picnics and small conventions, club meetings and other such gatherings either go inland or to Long Beach for their afternoons. With ample room for picnics, band concerts, speaking programs and such, he feels that hundreds of folks will come to the beach, instead.

Personally, we hope they vote either one for the beach city. Because we'll probably be showing up on these summer evenings, basket in hand, all ready for a picnic.

Imagine, too, what a fine thing it'll be when they hold their industrial fete and their bathing girl parades and all the rest of the things they're planning for the summer! C'mon, Huntington Beach!

100 TO TAKE PART IN COAST GROUP'S 'GOOD WILL' TOUR

INLAND VISIT SLATED FOR APRIL

Band, Bathing Girls and Bus to Be Featured in Annual Trip

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Nearly 100 representatives of the Orange Coast Association are expected to represent county communities in a "good will" tour, which will be staged probably April 16, W. H. Gallienne, chairman of the committee in charge, announced today.

Extensive plans are being made by the committee to make the tour the most elaborate and successful ever staged by the county communities. A bus will transport a band, which will play in each community visited, and bathing girls and others attired in beach costumes will probably parade, it was announced.

Plans call for all visitors to be dressed in beach or summer costumes. All cars will be uniformly decorated, with signs to show communities represented.

The tour will start at Seal Beach and will proceed down the coast line, picking up participants on the way. At Santa Ana, the tour will pass through San Juan Capistrano and over the Ortega Highway to Glendale, the first "visit" of the day.

From Elsinore, the party will proceed to Riverside, where a basket lunch will be served at noon. From there visits will be made to Colton, Redlands, San Bernardino, Upland, Ontario and Pomona, as well as smaller towns in the area.

A committee including Mr. Gallienne, Harry Welch, Newport chamber of commerce secretary, and Capt. George Portus, president of the Laguna chamber, will make a trip soon to contact officials in the cities to be visited.

Members of the committee in charge include Mr. Gallienne, chairman; Mayor A. T. Smith, San Clemente; H. H. Henshaw and Capt. Portus, Laguna Beach; D. T. Prenter, Dana Point; P. A. Palmer, Newport-Balboa and M. M. McGrath, Seal Beach.

Orange Permits Total $25,000

ORANGE.—Three building permits were issued at the city hall Monday for a total of $25,000, including a permit for construction of the new WPA bath house located in the city park, it was announced by Frank B. Dale, city building inspector.

The bath house will be of wood-stucco construction, 24 feet wide and 170 feet long, with an area of 4060 square feet. A second story will be 24 feet by 50 feet. Excavation began Feb. 26, and 50 men are now working on the project. Ben F. Dierker, park superintendent, is supervising the work.

James Akers was issued a permit to construct a wood-stucco dwelling at 939 West Almond avenue to cost $4000 and the Orange theater was given a permit to rebuild a marquee over the sidewalk at a cost of $1000.

Party to Leave On Fishing Trip

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—A. B. Rousseau, pioneer of Santa Ana and Newport, and George A. Rogers, promoter of the $2,000,000 harbor project, will depart from Los Angeles this evening over the Southern Pacific for a fishing expedition in Mexican waters.

Mr. Rogers' yacht, "Memory" cruised down the coast this week and will be waiting at Guaymas for the anglers. Aboard the boat now are Mr. Rogers' son, James Rogers, and his brother, Lawrence L. Rogers.

The group will also be joined by Mr. Rogers' cousin, Dr. John Schutt, who is flying from Bremerton, Wash., for the trip. Roy Lewis, Tustin, is also aboard.

Bobbie Heath, 10, Feted at Party

MIDWAY CITY.—Observing the tenth birthday anniversary of her son, Bobbie, Mrs. Bert Heath entertained a group of boys at a theater party in Santa Ana Saturday afternoon, returning to the Heath home on Van Buren street for refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard were in Sawtelle Monday, attending the funeral of Mr. Hazard's cousin, Leo Marden.

Birthday Party Held at Grove

GARDEN GROVE.—The 12th birthday anniversary of Janet Smiley was celebrated Saturday evening with a dinner party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smiley. Edna Heberstret, Jean Holt and Sadie Campi won prizes for games.

Talented Laguna Parrots Featured in 'Coastlines' In Ramona Play

HEMET.—Embodying a romance that goes back to the days of early California history when the invading white settlers began questioning the supremacy of the dons and driving the Indians from their lands, the thirteenth annual presentation of the famed Ramona Pageant will be enacted on the afternoons of April 18-19, April 25-26 and May 2-3 with performances at 2:45 p. m.

The Ramona Pageant tells the story of two Indian lovers, Ramona and Alessandro, and their many thrilling and tragic adventures in search of a home where they may find peace and happiness. Woven into the story are delightful episodes of Spanish and the children and a vein of rich Indian life, fiestas, Indian ceremonies and dances, playboys of comedy. Interspersed throughout the entire action of the play are song and ensemble numbers made doubly effective by a musical background provided by Jose Arias and his orchestra of Spanish troubadours.

Interest attaches to the announcement from Lloyd D. Mitchell, general manager of the Pageant association, that Victor Jory and Jean Inness have again been selected to portray the leading characters, Alessandro and Ramona, heading a cast of 250 players including an additional 50 Indians from nearby reservations.

Keeping parrots alive and healthy, we discovered, must be a ticklish problem. For example, a few health hints picked up in the course of these ramblings were that they must always have fresh water, be kept out of drafts, supplied with plenty of chewable wood. (Redwood is poison to parrots, they say.) Nails must be clipped three or four times yearly, but not too close. Or get out the alum to stop the bleeding! And one more thing. Swearing parrots live to the ripe old age of 150 or thereabouts.

Traveler to Talk At Midway City

MIDWAY CITY.—Dr. Daniels, Long Beach, noted traveler and lecturer, will talk on "Ethiopia" Wednesday night at the Woman's clubhouse, at the conclusion of the regular monthly pot-luck dinner, sponsored by the Community church, it was announced today.

WESTMINSTER GROUP VISITS IN POMONA

WESTMINSTER.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall, Marvin Penhall and Richard Ferguson spent Sunday in Pomona, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cook, Frank and Mary Eastwood, Virginia Ferguson and Craig Snadell attended the Christian Endeavor banquet in Santa Ana, Saturday night. They were accompanied by Mrs. Marie Hare.

Mrs. J. H. Walton and brother, John Pope, visited relatives in Long Beach Saturday.

By McDONALD WHITE

Margaret Millmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, says that Ripley has discovered a parrot smarter than hers. She has two parrots, and an Australian cockatoo named "Angel." "Pharo," the younger of the parrots, sings "The Big Bad Wolf" with gestures, with either a soprano voice or basso profundo, depending upon his mood.

"Peter Pepper" sings arias from operas. Preferably Carmen, and La Boheme. Very affectionate, according to reports, he snuggles up and cries, "I'm My Mother's Baby!" and "Oh, I Love My Mother!" Those who have witnessed the spectacle report it is very touching.

The Australian cockatoo, "Angel," is beautiful but dumb. Cries constantly for cream and crackers. She scorns milk. In fact she's downright snooty. But she's beautiful.

Now what started all this talk about parrots is this. Nearby the workshop where these snatches of stuff and nonsense are born lives a noisy bird called "Tony." His real name is Peptonia or something like that, only all the passing kids call him Tony for short. Every now and then he'll holler, "Don!" or "Don?" But I happen to know that he's not calling me. Anyway, hearing your name called out in that shrill manner is very disturbing at times. However, he's only a parrot, and was presented to Miss Katherine Grassie in San Salvador.

Oh, yes, Tony has many other accomplishments, including whistling "Yankee Doodle" all the way through. And in top form he sounds like a family argument about to reach the throwing stage. But his mistress is fond of Tony and all the passing kiddies extend the customary "Hello, Polly," greeting.

The more probing into the Polly problem we did, the more we wanted to know. So down to have words with Thomas L. Hosmer, the flower expert and bird and seed man. "Pop" Rankin was there and between the two of them we discovered several other parrot facts.

There are Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Heister, Anne Mason, Mrs. Katherine Sullivan, Mrs. Belle Woodward, Mrs. W. B. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice McMillan, Hiel G. Rider and probably many others who keep parrots. But that's quite a number of talkers for one town.

Keeping parrots alive and healthy, we discovered, must be a ticklish problem. For example, a few health hints picked up in the course of these ramblings were that they must always have fresh water, be kept out of drafts, supplied with plenty of chewable wood. ## CHAMBER HEARS FISHING TALK

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—W. T. Scofield, California State Fish and Game commission, spoke before the chamber of commerce at the noon luncheon yesterday, explaining that work carried on by the commission is for the purpose of conserving the supply of fish for the people of the state.

He spoke of the serious menace of seals devouring thousands of tons of fish along the California coast, and suggested a way that this condition might be corrected. He proposed that authorities might visit rookeries and note the population and determine the number of seals that should be killed, and then destroy the pups in a humane manner.

He deplored destruction of sardines by floating reduction plants, and said that the boats anchor outside of jurisdiction of the law and catch fish for fertilizer, and that nothing can be done about it.

COAST GROUP'S SESSION TOLD

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Members of the Orange Coast Association will meet next Tuesday evening with the San Diego County Development federation at Car diff. President Elmer J. Hughes has announced.

Beach development and programs affecting both counties will be discussed at the session, it was announced, and all members of the Orange county association have been urged to attend.

A special bus will leave Seal Beach at 4 p. m. and will pick up members not wishing to drive their own cars. Secretary Harry Welch said today. Anyone wishing to make the trip by bus must make reservations immediately, he said.

The two county groups will meet at 6:30 p. m. for dinner, it was announced.

SECTION MEETS AT ORANGE

ORANGE.—California to Florida was the topic chosen by the First Toastmaster's section of the Orange county group at their Monday noon meeting at the club house. Mrs. Margaret Ockels was toastmaster, and responses to roll call were made by one minute talks on California beauty spots.

Mrs. W. W. Perry spoke on "The Singing Tower to Florida," the highest spot in the state and one of its beauty spots. Mrs. W. H. Johnson described the Zion and Brice national parks. The subject taken by Mrs. Walter Kogler was "Music and Art in California."

She began with the earliest days and gave a history of the section.

Pair to Speak At Oceanside

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Further indication of interest of San Diego county communities in either extending the Orange county fishing reserve into San Diego county or forming a separate reserve was announced here today with invitation to members of the Orange County Coast association to speak at a chamber of commerce meeting in Oceanside Wednesday.

W. H. Gallienne, Huntington Beach, and Harry Welch, Newport-Balboa, will represent the coast group at the meeting, it was announced today, explaining operation of the county reserve, which prohibits commercial sealing of sardines and other bait fish within two miles of shore.

Plan Party for Island Residents

BALBOA ISLAND.—A "get-acquainted" picnic will be held tomorrow on Balboa Island when a group of the earlier settlers of the island greet and entertain new residents who have moved to the "Cape Cod Colony of the Pacific coast" within the past year.

Twenty or more new residents are expected to be guests for the day at the exchange luncheon and chafest, which will be attended by about 45 islanders. Luncheon will be spread on the beach terrace between Onyx and Marine avenues.

Mrs. Hal Will Smith and Mrs. A. S. Richardson are chairmen of the event, which has become an annual affair.

GROVE O. E. S. TO MEET

GARDEN GROVE.—Members' night will be observed by Garden Grove chapter of the Eastern Star with a 6:30 p. m. pot-luck supper at the Anaheim K. P. hall, Thursday evening. Initiation will follow. Visitors will be welcomed for both the supper and meeting. The chapter will furnish coffee, rolls and butter for the supper.

STUDENTS PLAN 3-ACT COMEDY

ORANGE.—"In Old Vienna," a three-act musical comedy, will be presented by students of the high school music department on Friday evening in the high school auditorium, with Percy J. Green, music department instructor, in charge of the production, assisted by Miss Phyllis Lucy Keyes.

In order to enlarge two of the parts, that of "Louisa," played by Norma La Ferney and "Kinski," played by Llewellyn Williams, Miss Keyes wrote words and music for two songs which have been incorporated in the production. The titles are, "Please Marry Me," and "The Silver Lining."

Chorus dances are under supervision of Miss Grace Robertson and Miss Helen Culp, physical education department. Ross L. Taylor is dramatic coach. Scenery is being painted by high school students, Carl Crouch, Joe Hinrichs and an ex-student, Harold Dotson, directed by Joe Livernash, wood shop instructor. The combined glee clubs furnish characters for the operetta.

The complete cast includes Hans Maier, Frank Christian; Louisa, Norma La Ferney; Captain Kinski, Llewellyn Williams; Bumski, Bill Jordan; Rumski, Clarence Borchard; J. Jennison Jones, Dick Harbottle; Gigo, Joe Farmer; Ilona, Phyllis Kogler; Arthur Cretford, Robert Kivild; June Pennington, Eleanor Kolthorst; Jonas H. Pennington, Wesley Marquart; Lady Vivian Delancy, Maryesther Wood; tourists, burgers, Viennese, maidens, waiters and gypsies are glee club members.

THREE BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED AT GROVE PARTY

GARDEN GROVE.—Three birthday anniversaries were observed Sunday with a turkey dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Ohmer at their home on Gilbert road in honor of their three children whose birthday's are March 2, 3 and 11. Those honored were Catherine and Edward, Jr., who live at home, and William Ohmer, Santa Ana.

Other guests were Mrs. Mary Harold and Russell Holcomb, Los Angeles; Mrs. William Ohmer and son and Miss Lillian Dunn, Santa Ana.

MORE ABOUT QUAKE

Compton and other cities. Night falls, and all over Santa Ana citizens spent the hours of darkness on their lawns or beside bonfires—waiting. A group of boys went through the streets, serenading a few Negroes gathered and sang spirituals by a wood fire in the street. Radio programs look on a note of forced gaiety. Telegrams flashed back and forth between relatives. Telephone switchboard operators and maintenance crews did heroic work. The local radio station helped in the emergency.

And finally the next day came. Some of the structures which were most seriously damaged were the Haley building, Lutz building, Elks club, courthouse, Otis building, Commercial National Bank, the city hall and the Rossmore hotel. The work of rebuilding began at once. George Wells immediately began repairs on the L. D. Coffing building.

Federal Aid Sought

Paul Witmer, then mayor, at once sought aid from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Byron V. Curry, welfare director, appealed for $500,000 to be distributed in the county from the same source. The American Legion Auxiliary opened an emergency station in Birch park, field headquarters of the 15th infantry, California National Guard.

Odd things were noticed, too. The hands of the clock on the tower of the Spurgeon building had stopped at 5:55 p. m., the exact time of the first quake. Two romantic couples came to the courthouse, seeking marriage licenses. They couldn't get in because of damage to the building. On one damaged building a sign was knocked askew. It read, strangely "Will remodel to suit tenant." A vase belonging to Mrs. George S. Briggs, 644 North Broadway, which had gone through the San Francisco earthquake unharmed, fell to the floor. It was not broken.

Structures Rebuilt

Scarcely a trace of the earthquake remains in Santa Ana. Damaged structures were rebuilt stronger than ever. The city hall has been rebuilt entirely. Schools have undergone rigid inspection and have been repaired or rebuilt. Much has been done to prevent serious results. The rebuilding has been done by male structures quake-proof. High school buildings damaged by the shocks, are still being reconstructed according to new, strict regulations.

A county-wide emergency organization has been founded under the direction and assistance of the American Legion and Dr. James Farrage. Efficient, trained service will be in evidence at once if another emergency arises. Sheriff Logan Jackson has formulated an emergency organization which will utilize all facilities and man power available.

But Santa Ana has had its earthquake. It is not expecting another.

G-Man Rests

J. Edgar Hoover, widely known nemesis of crooks, on a vacation at Miami, Fla. Mr. Hoover is the director of the department of justice's division of investigation. His intensive drive against kidnapping has done much to rid the country of that particularly atrocious racket.

Help Yourself to Happiness It's Waiting for Your Grasp

By FRANCES TIPTON LONG
Noted Authority on Charm and Personality

When I was a little girl my parents often spent a few weeks of the summer at Palacios Bay. On one of these vacations we were out in a boat with a number of other people. The day was warm and balmy, but suddenly a dark cloud loomed up, the wind swept down upon us and we were in the midst of a squall.

When it seemed that the boat would surely sink, one of the biggest and strongest men in the party cried out in intense fear, "Let us pray."

"No," shouted our rough old boatman. "Let the ladies pray. forced them to exert every energy, use every resource."

Think it over. Conditions have rarely helped great men. They battled their way to success against almost insurmountable difficulties, in the face of bitter opposition. But as they fought, their personalities became stronger. Suppose Abraham Lincoln had been content to split logs all his life! In spite of difficulties, despite lack of education, he fought upward. The big thing is—start. The man without initiative is like the runner who never starts, the fighter who never leaves his corner.

If you can't find a niche, make one. "Weak men wait for opportunities," says Marden, "but strong men make them." And Chapin points out, "The best men are not those who have waited for chance, but those who have taken them." A self-made President of the United States, when asked to name his family coat-of-arms, replied, "A pair of silver sleeves."

There is no shame in losing, if one has fought a good fight, given of his best, tried his hardest. But the good fighter rarely loses, not for long, at least. He always returns to the fray and, eventually, he wins.

And, if you'll just get started, you can win, too. Help yourself to happiness. Help yourself to success. It's there—waiting for you to take.

PHONE RATE PLEA IS DENIED

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—A plea made by citizens of Wintersburg and Midway City to have the toll lifted for service of the Associated Telephone Co. was denied at a meeting held in the chamber of commerce here last night. Dr. Russell Johnson, Midway City, made the plea.

The telephone officials, including A. F. Lockett, new wire chief here, also pledged themselves to make a check of the telephone service to see if corrections can be made to give more efficient service. C. M. Rood, M. M. McCallum and F. F. Bundy were the speakers.

Wrestling Doomed?
Yellowtail Here!

A couple items that distinctly are news to your correspondent—and we hope they are to you.

Last night's wrestling fans may not have known it, but chances are they saw the last grapping exhibition at the Highway 101 arena—at least for some time.

Promoter Sam Sampson has not definitely made up his mind as yet, but he did tell this scribe between acts last night that unless he was given some better wrestling talent for next week he would close up.

So the future of wrestling hinges upon the kind of show Sam is able to arrange for next week with the moguls that run things up in L. A. Of late the trust hasn't been any too kind to Sampson and as a result receipts have been on the toboggan.

Last night's house was the smallest we've seen out there—including some mighty scanty boxing audiences. And scanty boxing audiences, we might add, are things of the past now, as interest has skyrocketed in the amateur punchers while it has declined in the hug and tug boys.

Decline of wrestling, which went along here for many months as by far and away the most popular sport in the county, started with so-called champion Vincent Lopez. First two or three times out here Champ Lopez packed the house, but one time he was put in the ring with Casey Colombo. Colombo must be about 50 pounds lighter than Lou Daro's homemade champion, but he made Lopez look very, very dull.

Next time Lopez came he looked even worse against Dick Davistart. To be very blunt, he was lousy. And the amount of customers he attracted certainly was not worthy of a champion.

From that day activity at the box office has gone rapidly downward until it reached the bottom of the barrel last night.

Sampson is convinced that, given good performers, he can put on fine shows to full houses again. But until such time as the trust promises him better boys, he probably will lay off.

Sam could put light heavies—who operate on a different circuit than the heavies—into the ring here, but feels that customers prefer the pachyderms.

Our guess is that wrestling will be back in a couple of months—as good or better than ever.

What old salts tell me is the earliest run of the big game fish in history is now under way from the well known "horse shoe" kelp southward along the coast.

Yesterday we heard of eight fishermen who returned from a day's pleasure with 48 yellowtail on board.

And today the Lying Scotsman, Jr., whose fish story will be printed on this page tomorrow, writes that last Friday four lie Waltons came home with 20 yellowtail among 'em.

And Newport-Balboa sends along a dispatch that 12 anglers steamed merrily into port aboard the live bait boat Valencia with 57 "monstrous" yellowtail. The fish averaged 15 pounds apiece, according to Capt. Darrell King—which adds up to something like a total of 1000 pounds of fish. It took about three hours to make this haul.

The big run started Thursday—and where've we been?—and has sailed.

Water has kept up an abnormally warm temperature—between 60 and 62 degrees.

Also Lying Scotsman reports that surf fishermen are catching yellowfin and corbina—using rock worms for bait. And barge fishermen are getting literally tons of mackerel. Razor clams are netting croaker and yellowfin.

Boy, pass me my fishhook and if anyone calls for me tell 'em to hang around and we'll have a fish dinner.

Le Mon, Lowe Matched for Right to Meet Navy Heavy

Sailor "Buck" Kimball, U. S. S. Idaho heavyweight, who beat Art Johnson in his only appearance before boxing followers of this section, will head an eight-man team from the navy battleship next week when "Jimmie Heffron Night" is held at the Orange County Athletic club.

Kimball will meet Friday night's main event winner between Le Mon, and Henry Lowe. Originally Promoter Sam Sampson planned to use Kimball against Le Mon as the feature attraction this week, but decided it would be better to bring the entire Idaho squad here for the March 20 date, and shoot Le Mon and

SENIOR SOARS 12 FT. 6 IN. FOR GREENE

High School Tracksters Trim Newport Squad; Adams Wins Sprints

Blond Leonard Stafford was credited with a new pole vault record of 12 feet, 6 inches at Santa Ana High school today.

The sturdy-legged senior broke his own and the school's all-time mark of 12 feet, 3 inches in the cross-bar event at Poly field yesterday, while Reece H. Greene's Saints greeted Ralph Reed's Newport Harbor Tars with a double drubbing in a practice dual meet.

Santa Ana won Class A competition, 62½ to 50½, and was an easy victor in Class B festivities 66½ to 37½.

Before the season started Coach Greene predicted Stafford would shatter his vaulting record. He also said he believed Fred Titensor, giant senior, would better Jim Daper's mark of 51.8 seconds in the quarter-mile.

Titensor, obviously not having reached his best form, was clocked in 54.6 seconds in the single-lap dash yesterday. He'll shave three seconds off that mark before the season is history, some observers believe.

Sophomore Harry Adams, Negro, copped both dashes for the Saints. Captain Blas Mercurio also was a double winner—in the broad jump and high jump. He was credited with a leap of 6 feet, 2 inches in the latter event, after an allowance was made for a slight sag in the cross-bar.

H. B. Track Plans Under Way

Huntington Beach High school has issued 35 invitations to its annual Southern Counties track-and-field classic on the Oiler field a week from Saturday, it was learned today.

Coach Harry (Cap) Sheue, director of the meet, announced medals will be awarded the first four place winners in each event. Trophies will be given first and second places.

To encourage smaller schools to enter, officials will present a trophy to the team winning a special relay event, Mr. Sheue said.

Chaffey is the defending champion, and will be a leading threat again this year.

The Huntington Beach H-Y organization has been placed in charge of arrangements for the meet.

Foot Fault
HAROLD BERGLUND, Colorado college basketball forward, played most of the 1936 season with a size 9½ shoe on his right foot and a size 11½ on his left because his left pedal was injured and the oversized footwear allowed for ample bandaging.

CITY LEAGUE LOSES 20-30 BALL CLUB

Holdout Turns to Coaching

Giants' Pennant Chances Hinge On Terry, Leslie Leiber And Fitzsimmons

(This is one of a series outlining major league pennant prospects.)

If Bill Terry can play first base regularly; if Sam Leslie can replace him effectively should a bad knee keep Terry on the sidelines; if Burgess Whitehead can go at full steam at second for an entire season; if Fred Fitzsimmons' arm is right again, and if Hank Leibler doesn't remain a holdout—then you can bet your rent money the Giants will be giants from flag pole to finish in the 1936 National league race.

They still can be hot contenders even if one or two of their problem ball players have just a fair season but too many defects probably will cause them to do a fold-up act for the third straight year. Terry's job resembles that of the vacationer who patches up the old family bus with a couple of new parts for a trans-continental trip.

Pitching Big Problem
Pitching, an almost inexhaustible product three years ago when Terry took the steering gear and drove the Giants to a World's championship, is the biggest problem—Carl Hubbell, Hal Schumacher and Cludell Castelman, who between them captured 67 of the 91 games won last season, are certain quantities for 1936.

The other seven, among them Fitzsimmons, whose arm was operated upon for a chipped bone last year, are big question marks.

Terry is optimistic over Harry Gumbert, who won 20 and lost 10 last season for Baltimore and is counting on him to round out the "big four." If Fitzsimmons comes through, together with Al Smith, winner of 10 and loser of eight in '35, Terry will have one of the finest mound staffs in the game. Howard Sipler, a husky right hander obtained from Richmond

Catching is no problem with Gus Mancuso and Harry Danning on deck. They will comprise the full catching staff for the Giants, allowing Terry to carry along 10 pitchers, six infielders and five outfielders for his full man minimum squad of 23 players.

Glenn Lee Faces Leon Zorita

LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—Glenn Lee, rising Nebraska welterweight, meets a tough foe tonight in Leon Zorita, Los Angeles Negro.

Declaring he had been threatened with a fight by an unidentified letter writer unless he laid down, Zorita announced, "I'll knock Lee out inside of five rounds, watch and see."

The match is scheduled for ten rounds. The Nebraska recently scored an upset victory over Al Manfredi, who was suspended by the state boxing commission afterward for an asserted listless showing.

Indians to Play Trojan Ball Club

SANTA MONICA, March 10. (AP)—A brisk workout faced the Seattle baseball team today as a preliminary to a game tomorrow with the University of Southern California, class of the state intercollegiate league.

Manager Dutch Reuther, reviewing performances in last Sunday's exhibition against the Chicago White Sox, considered a sizable change in the outfield, but otherwise was inclined to let the lineup stand.

NEW ENTRIES CONSIDERED FOR LOOP

Applications for two new franchises and withdrawals of the 20-30 club furnished the only "fire" in a mild meeting of Santa Ana City league business managers and other officials with Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison and his softball commission at the city hall last night.

Knights of Columbus, through Henry Stanley, and Standard Stations, through A. S. Turner, tentatively applied for admission. Hold-over teams definitely in the 1936 chase are the Santa Ana Elks, defending champions piloted by Kenneth Miller; Spurgeon M. E. South, managed by Lester W. Slaback; Commercial National bank, co-managed by Don Hilliard and Harold Finley; the Carpenters' Union, skippered by Norris Stone; and the First National bank.

No Vote On Rules

Action on the proposed adoption of new rules (13-inch ball, 37-foot pitching distance and 50-foot base-lines) was postponed until March 23, when the league will hold another meeting in the city hall.

Manager Miller of the Elks said he would start practice next week with the 13-inch ball in preparation for exhibition games. He is seeking with Manager George Lackaye's Santa Ana Stars, Mr. Lackaye, who calls out his Stars for drill next week, has promised the Elks a place on his exhibition schedule, Mr. Miller said.

The 20-30's good enough to gain a playoff with the Elks last season, have withdrawn for an indefinite period. Whether they will ever return to the loop is uncertain. President John Lutz of the service club said today, "We plan to enter the district 20-30 softball league. Our players desiring to compete with other teams in the City league, of course, will be eligible to do so."

Change One Rule

Any player who is signed by the National, Orange County or any similar league, and who is not released within 14 days after signing by said club, will not be eligible for City league competition. This revision was made last night to Rule No. 1.

Don Hilliard stated yesterday he had resigned as manager of the Commercial National bank outfit, but just as soon as the news broke Leland and Harold Finley of the bank apparently persuaded Mr. Hilliard to reconsider. He was present last night.

Buster Adams of Solons Goes Lame

RIVERSIDE, Calif., March 10. (AP)—Buster Adams, Sacramento's fence-busting third baseman, nursed an arm injury today that gave the management concern.

Adams was hurt after batting a home run and a triple in yesterday's regular-yannin contest, which the old guard won 12 to 1 behind good pitching and fielding.

Ado Severi and Jack Hall divided the regulars' pitching assignment, while Dave Odum replaced Rookie Gurney Jones in the sixth inning and gave up eight runs.

Kimball, Angel Hurler, Is Hurt

SAN BERNARDINO, March 10. (AP)—The injury jinx struck the Los Angeles baseball club for the training season's first serious casualty today.

Newell Kimball, outstanding Angel hurler, wrenched his back in warming up for a game against the rookies and was under a physician's care today. It was a recurrence of an injury suffered by Kimball when he played football in high school.

George Caster Joins Portland

VENTURA, Calif., March 10. (AP)—The Portland Beavers' pitching staff numbered seven today, with two more expected from the Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Athletics.

George Caster, who went up to the Athletics in 1934, was back with the Beavers today, unlimbering his hurling arm for a heavy season.

Other moundsmen in camp are Herman Duffin, Hobo Carson, Bill Poessel, Dutch Ulrich, Bill Radonits and Ad Liska

Dons vs. Citrus

Here's Handicap Chart for Track Opener at Azusa Tomorrow

By PAUL WRIGHT

They take the blankets off Santa Ana Junior college's potentially powerful track-and-field ensemble at Azusa tomorrow afternoon.

Andrew Jackson (Bill) Cook, annual producer of strong entries, sends his Dons to the post against Al (Tricky) Claves' Citrus Owls in the opening of the Eastern conference dual meet season at 3 o'clock.

Riverside goes to San Bernardino for another first-round meet. Chaffey already has begun its titanic quest with an 88-34 victory over Pomona's Red Raiders, who are entering dual meet competition for the first time.

Strong Contenders

Citrus has an array of good talent, what with Jimmy Montgomery leaping 23 feet in the broad jump, Wright scaling 12 feet in the pole vault, and Chasson tossing the javelin 160 feet.

Santa Ana hopes to match this strength in the weights with Bill Greshner, Wilburn Anderson and Art Craft, 40-foot shotputters; Jimmy Nee, 12-foot vaulter; Al Parr and Cameron Gillis, 21-foot broad jumpers, and George Griffith, 5:10 high jumper.

Close Meet Looms

The Journal figures the meet will be exceptionally close, with Santa Ana winning by approximately 10 points. There is a possibility the heated rivals will be deadlocked at 63-63 going into the relay—which Santa Ana will win.

SLEDGE WINS OVER JERRY MONOHAN

By FRANK ROGERS

Never bite a suthun gennlemens. That's the indelible lesson that Irish Jerry Monohan was mulling over today as he licked his wounds administered him last night by Bill Sledge, Dixie's "fast express" of wrestling, at the Highway 101 arena.

Monohan is very much indeed what wrestlers call a "bummer"—or just a plain dirty guy. And when a wrestler gets one of his contemporaries to admit that he is a dirty guy, he is indeed dirty.

Bashes Head on Post
Before a select crowd that enjoyed a surprisingly active program, Monohan took the first fall from Sledge by the painful procedure of bashing Dixie Bill's head against the northwest ring post. Before any blood could be aroused to dissuade Jerry from this maneuver, but failed to kick the rough houser out for fouling. So Jerry went on straggling, fouling, slugging, biting away, wearing Sledge down and pinning him in 11 mins. 40 secs. with a body press.

The rest of the main event lasted quickly, since Sledge was shooting fire from both eyes. Jerry hit Bill on the tummy and the southerner turned gymnastic to take the second fall, scoring with a splendid series of flying tackles in 18 mins. 25 secs. As the final period started Monohan rushed out of his corner intending to trap Sledge in his own private nook. Sledge's neatly aimed feet met him full force and Jerry crashed to the floor. When he got up Sledge aimed, cocked and fired another "drop kick." Jerry's tumbling landed down again and Bill tumbled on top of him, winning the fall in 11 secs.

Ad (Bomber) Herman lost the semi-windup to a new toughie named Al Mills in a battle that was strictly second-best to the second performance. Most of the semi action occurred when Herman chucked Mills into the press row. Mills crashed into a seat that, until a split second before had been occupied by Journal Pressman Frank Matthews who had been enjoying the show very well up to that point. Frank ducked in time, but as he looked over his shoulder he saw his erstwhile seat reduced to splinters.

Mills arose from the wreckage, cocked himself on the edge of the arena and projected his 250-pound bulk squarely into Herman's midriff. Herman was down in the time of 11 mins. 13 secs.

Pal Fight Draw

Baby Bob Coleman and Pat McGill, a pair of gymnastic performers won most of the plaudits for the evening with their 20-minute draw battle. These two 160-pounders rolled around like a couple of kittens after catnip, but provided some flashy wrestling of the higher type. Neither could fasten a hold on the other, but the fans gave them a neat round of applause for their dexterity in getting out of difficulties and for keeping the proceedings highly sanitary.

Hairy-chested Bill Grubbs returns

Form Player And 'Plunger' To Clash In Pony Contest

By OSCAR OATS

Beaten shooting the works on the long shots. Each can have only one horse. Winnings are to be parlayed all the way.

Each day this corner will report the losses and profits—if any—of the contenders, as well as their selections for today's races. Meanwhile, old Solomon Wise, cagey Jewish gent, has kept both hands on the old purse strings, but now he smells a nice bet.

"If the track doesn't make more than both of you during the 25-day meet," he observes, "I'll buy you a ticket to Jay Meadows for the racing season there. But if the track whips both of you, you owe me a trip to the San Diego fair."

All the various wagers were signed, sealed and delivered to me. They're off!

Here are Wynott Rickett's form selections for today: Iron Mountain, Cold Wave, Trysland, Baranca, Evangelist, Budding Star, Cabbo, Toro Flight, Chilla Lee.

FAST COWBOY SONGS DUE ON KVOE

Things will be moving pretty fast with tonight's presentation of the Sons of the Pioneers over KVOE at 6:45 when they will sing and play four fast-moving numbers in addition to the original composition: "West of the Rio Grande," written by Verne Spencer of the Pioneers group. The tunes will include "Soldier's Joy," "Ragtime Annie," "Outlaw Rag," and a composition by Bob Nolan: "Old Sky Ball Paint," the musical story of a horse that was a "Tough Hombre."

The Sons of the Pioneers are programmed on KVOE every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at the same hour.

Two Guest Stars
Howard and Shelton will be the guest stars on the program conducted by Harry Richman, one of the series scheduled every Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Richman's guest-artists are always nationally-known radio or stage stars.

The Dodge orchestra is also featured with a fast moving presentation of the most popular hit tunes of the day.

Something to Happen
It is very quiet in Keba, little town in Africa, but the very stillness portends that something exciting is about to happen. That is the substance of tonight's chapter of "King Coal" on KVOE at 7:45, a presentation of the Santa Ana Players. "Professor Saddle-ride" has evidently sold Major Blake on the idea that he, the "Professor," has something to offer in the way of military strategy, but the unexpected always happens.

A report of interest to Orange county residents will be given by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the adult education department, Santa Ana city schools, at 5:30 this evening. Mrs. Weston will discuss a general survey of adult education in international relations for the Los Angeles metropolitan area which includes part of Orange county.

French Troops Movement Brings Raid on Deposits
PARIS, March 10. (AP)—Savings bank depositors in frontier towns rushed to withdraw money as lines of troops marched steadily toward the Rhineland.
More than 5,000,000 francs were taken out of banks at Strasbourg where squads of police were called to keep depositors orderly.
Banking officials limited withdrawals at Mulhouse to 5000 francs for each depositor. More than 3,000,000 francs were withdrawn from banks at Metz.
Some of the withdrawals, officials said, were made by wives of army officers who were leaving the frontier posts for the interior.

French Man Powerful and Unique Fortification Near Nazi-Menace Rhine Border

By TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Staff Writer
Soldiers of France, living like 150,000 moles deep in the earth, man one of history's most remarkable fortifications as the third republic's first line of defense across the border from a re-arming reich.

A fortress 125 miles long, built at a cost of a quarter of a billion dollars, is the French answer to the charge that in 1914 only the bare breasts of French soldiers lay between Paris and the Rhineland.

Hailed by military experts as one of the most complete military engineering feats ever conceived, it extends along the Franco-German frontier from Belfort, all the way to the Swiss Alps.
Convinced they can no longer depend on isolated fortresses—such as Verdun—the French have made the new fortress a solid line of small continuous works, hidden so far as possible and ready to receive their defenders at a moment's notice.
It has a permanent garrison of 100,000 troops, to which the war ministry rushed 50,000 more when German troops seized the bridgeheads at Cologne and Coblenz Saturday, and made their camps within in pistol-shot of the border.

Radio Roundup TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By HOMER CANFIELD
RECEIVING ITS first complete radio performance anywhere, William Shakespeare's comedy of mistaken identity, "Twelfth Night," will be heard from KEEA starting at 8:15. The production is to run two and a quarter hours or more.
Principals among the cast of fifteen players include Thelma Hubbard as Viola; J. M. Kerrigan, Sir Toby Belch; Eric Snowden, Peste; Freeman Ambrose, Malvolvo and Raymond Lawrence, Sir Andrew Aguecheek.

LLOYD C. DOUGLAS, whose novels, "Magnificent Obsession" and "Green Light," have been best sellers, will talk on KFOJ's "Literature on Parade" program at 7:45.
Foster Rucker will be on hand to ask the former minister several pointed questions.
Douglas at present is living in Hollywood and working on a new novel, "White Banners," soon to be published.

KMTR COMES FORTH at 9:30 with a half-hour of what looks to be a real vaudeville show. Uncle Jimmy Conlin and Myrtle Glass headline the program with the new Gallagher and Sheen team in feature billing. Gallagher of the original team passed away some time ago.
Irene Franklin, Sylvia "Chatterbox" Pickler, Heller and Riley, Jack McClelland, Maurice Black and Lester Crawford are also to join the lineup.

KENNY BAKER introduced it, and now Lawrence Tibbett has decided to highlight tonight's broadcast with Johnny Green's latest tune, "The Night Is Beginning." (KHJ, 5:30)
For background in the operatic arias, Tibbett will have Ken Christie's mixed chorus. They'll be heard in "Caesar, Great Wert Thou," a magnificent number from Deems Taylor's "The King's Henchmen," and "Te Deum," from "Tosca," by Puccini.

INSTEAD OF "Parties at Pickfair" it'll be "Mary Pickford Visits New York" when this problem program hits the air at 7 o'clock, KHJ.
Kitty Carlile and Freddie Bartholomew are to be featured with Harry Salter's band and choral group pinch-hitting for Al Lyons.
Maybe the new locale will help this show. Next week's broadcast will also come from New York with March 24's again at Pickfair.

'BARGAIN TAX' DEADLINE IS NEAR HERE

Legal bargains in tax delinquencies will no longer be available after April 20, W. T. Lambert, county auditor, said today. Penalties of 1 per cent per month on back taxes then will be added, amounting to added redemption costs of from 13 to 25 per cent, according to his figures.
"Right now," Mr. Lambert explained, "property is being redeemed on payment of back taxes with interest at only 7 per cent added. Interest is computed from July 1, 1934, this date being set by law regardless of the period of unpaid taxes. The law became effective June 12, 1935, and expires April 20, 1936.

Add Penalties Soon
"After April 20, then, we will be compelled to add the tax collector's penalties. We also will add the redemption penalties, 1 per cent per month from the date of delinquency. That is, instead of interest, we go back to the full period of delinquency and compute penalties."

None of the taxes collected by the auditor, it was explained, include the present year, 1935-1936. These are collected until the end of June by the tax collector.
"Also," he said, "those expecting to pay back taxes by installment must make payment not later than April 20, as the expiring law also takes away this privilege. This requires that the 1935-1936 taxes be paid to the tax-collector and a one-tenth minimum payment, with accrued interest, be paid to the auditor's office. The same is true of accounts which have been opened for a year. Unless payment is made, the accounts will be defaulted."

Taking a piece of property as an example having unpaid taxes for the past three years, the total unpaid taxes amount to $108.34, he explained, with simple interest at 7 per cent from July 1, 1934 added. This interest on April 1, is $13.26, bringing the redemption total to $121.60.
Would Mean Increase
But this same property, the auditor said, would require $137.33 on May 1, an increase of $15.73 in penalties, or nearly 13 per cent on this particular property.

Taking the same property as an example in regard to installment payments, the installment payment would be $10.84, plus interest of $13.26, making a total minimum of $24.10. Remaining payments may be made over 10 years, not less than one-tenth each year, with accrued interest on the

PRIZE CONTEST ANNOUNCED

A contest which will challenge the creative ability and manual dexterity of Santa Ana boys, 19 years old or younger, was announced today by Mr. M. Standish, Montgomery Ward store manager here. The contest closes April 4.
Any type of product of woodworker's art may be submitted provided that it is the work exclusively of the one boy and that it is made during the period of the contest. The store manager announced that he expected all types of entries from wooden bowls to bedsteads and that the type of the article will make no difference in determining the prizes which will be awarded on the basis of workmanship.

The first prize, according to the store manager, will be a $12.95 lathe and the second prize is a $4.95 lathe. Winners will be selected by a committee of three judges to be announced later. Entry blanks will be available at the Ward store, Fourth and Main streets and all boys are invited to call at the store for blanks and any information about the contest.

NEW TWIN BILL AT WALKER'S

With Joan Bennett and George Raft playing the leading roles, "She Couldn't Take It" opens tomorrow at Walker's State theater, with "Confidential" featuring Donald Cook and Evelyn Knapp, as the second big picture on the double bill.
Raft is seen in "She Couldn't Take It" as an ex-gangster who is appointed executor of the estate of a rich man, Walter Connolly, who dies in prison where he was sent for tax-dodging. Joan Bennett is Connolly's mad-cap daughter, Billie Burke his giddy wife and James Blakely his worthless son.
As executor of the estate, Raft takes charge of the spoiled, money-mad household and runs it in a way not to the liking of the family, but all comes out well in the end. Others in the cast are Wallace Ford as a gangland "mug," Lloyd Nolan, Alan Mowbray, William Tannen and Donald Meek.

FIRST CARGO OF ORANGES AT SEA

The first 1936 export shipment of California valencia oranges is scheduled to arrive in Europe in the next few days, it was learned today at the Orange County Fruit exchange, Orange. The fruit left Wilmington on Friday on the California Express steamer. It was carrying 15,000 boxes of Imperial valencia oranges, the major part of which was handled through the California Fruit Growers exchange.

Although another shipment of 5,000 boxes left port a day earlier on the motorship Heranger, the other one will arrive earlier because the California Express is a faster ship.
Probable dates for the first export shipment from northern valencia regions and from local groves are problematical at present.

This year's exports probably will not be so large as those of last year in view of the fact that last season a freeze in European countries created a shortage of competitive fruit. That condition probably will not prevail this year. However, last year's increased consumption of citrus fruits built up a demand for them which is being fostered through advertising by the California Fruit Growers exchange. Preference for the Sun-kissed brand is being built up through this advertising.
Last year's exports totaled 3,500,000 boxes. It is anticipated that this year's exports will amount to 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 boxes.

Three Drivers Brave Cool Weather To Win 'Gas'

On a cool morning it takes a little nerve to roll down the car window and signal for a right-hand turn; but at least three drivers did it today and won five gallons of gasoline in The Journal's traffic safety contest. They were driving cars bearing the following numbers: 7N 4614, 8X 2586 and 6T 3211.

By coming to The Journal office with their cars and identifying themselves before 6 p. m. tomorrow, these drivers will secure orders for five gallons of gasoline, free.

The contest is being staged by The Journal as a means of keeping the public conscious of the vital need for careful driving to prevent accidents and loss of life. Each day a different traffic regulation is used in the contest. Tomorrow the contest editor will watch for three drivers who make proper signals for left-hand turns.

The first winner to get his gasoline order yesterday was Herbert Birt, 2210 Maple street. Today H. W. Goodwin, 522 East Chestnut street, was the first to claim his award.

The body was buried in a grave two feet deep, 11 miles northwest of Saratoga. Quick lime had been spread over the corpse but it was identified easily as that of Mrs. Rice.

"BRIGHT as a new dollar"

MODERN kitchens, using Natural Gas, are almost show-rooms nowadays. Utensils gleam like money fresh from the mint. Equipment is spick and span. Woodwork fairly shines.

Natural Gas does its part toward keeping the kitchen fresh and inviting. It burns clean.

It saves you money, too. Gas is so economical in operation, so low in price that just one penny pays for enough to cook a family meal or heat water for a bath and shave.

To insure maximum cleanliness and efficiency, have your equipment examined occasionally by your gas company or dealer. And remember, new, improved appliances afford greatest convenience and economy.

S. F. Leader Welcomed By Parlor

Bowers Museum Visited in Afternoon; Banquet Given Before Meet

With "love and flowers" surrounding her, Mrs. Anna C. Thuesen of San Francisco, grand president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, took Santa Ana by storm and reigned at the afternoon flag presentation ceremony in Bowers museum and again last evening in Veterans hall at the Santa Ana parlor, Native Daughters' welcome banquet before the meeting in which she officially visited and inspected the parlor.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Matilda Lemmon, history and landmarks chairman for the parlor, aided Mrs. Thuesen in presenting the Spanish, Mexican, Bear and American flags to Bowers museum. A crowd of interested persons witnessed the ceremony.

Authorities Speak
Mrs. Thuesen reviewed the flags' history. Terry E. Stephenson, Orange County Historical society president, spoke briefly, as did Mayor Fred Rowland, on the history of the museum. Curator Mrs. F. E. Coulter also spoke a few words.

The crowd then toured the museum. WPA musicians provided a musical background for the afternoon.

Appointments Beautiful
Last evening, the main room of the Veterans hall was festive and beautiful with masses of yellow flowers and on the dinner tables, yellow and fluffy crepe-paper mounds holding slender black tapers. Mrs. Thuesen was guest of honor at the banquet.

Other dignitaries present and introduced were Grand Marshal Ethel Begley, Grand Trustees Alice M. Lane, Hazel B. Hansen and Nellie M. Cline, and Grand Outside Sentinel Mary B. Noehrenberg. From the Santa Ana City Council were Plummer Bruns, Joe Smith and William Penn.

Before the yellow floral 50 indicative of the 50th grand parlor at which Mrs. Thuesen will preside in June at Stockton, Mrs. J. H. Bray, parlor president, was seated. She wore a yellow chiffon gown with gardenias. Mrs. Thuesen wore gardenias, and was presented by Carl Schroeder and the Native Sons of the Golden West in Santa Ana with a large bouquet of sweet peas.

The dinner tables were attractive with yellow spring flowers in black pottery bowls, and handmade Spanish sombreros holding candies and mints.

Terry Stephenson spoke on behalf of the historical society. Mrs. W. E. Hisey presented to Mrs. Thuesen the honor of giving a large Bear flag from the order to the city council, and Mr. Rowland accepted. Native Sons present were introduced.

Mrs. Mildred Gray introduced Miss Clara Fitch and her accompanist, Miss Katherine Fitch of Orange. The former sang "My Sweet Little Allee Blue Gown," "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier" and "I Love You, California."

Visit Battleship
Afterward, the banquet was adjourned and the parlor began its sacred meeting. Thursday evening Mrs. Thuesen will visit Grace parlor in Placentia before returning north. A granddaughter of a 40er who had one of the first milk farms in San Francisco, her clear-cut features were most attractive against her soft rose lace gown, and her charming manner endeared her to all who saw and talked with her in the course of the day.

Santa Anas who attended the tea with 400 Native Daughters and the grand president as honor guest, Saturday afternoon on board the U. S. battleship California were Mrs. Bray and her officers, Mesdames William Mize, Arthur Edwards, Myrtle Ellis, Matilda Lemmon, Stella Gates, Hazel Flaherty, Florence Watson, Olive Witt, Lillian Gant, Walter Hisey, Rose Ford, Elizabeth Marsile, W. Members and friends of the G. G. Sunday school class and ladies' aid of the United Brethren church staged a surprise party on one of their members, Mrs. W. I. Jackson at her home, 235 West Maple street, Orange, last Friday.

The party was an all day affair in honor of Mrs. Jackson's birthday and also that she and her family are planning to leave soon for their former home in Chanute, Kan.

The group went to her home late in the forenoon and carried with them a covered-dish luncheon. The time was spent with fancywork and visiting.

In the afternoon the honoree and guests were requested to go out in the garden to look at the flowers. While they were out a means of presenting gifts was planned by winding a string in and out among the furniture. This string led to one parcel and a note of directions for finding the other parcels hidden about the room.

Mrs. Jackson was given the loose end of the string and told to wind it up. Sewing was forgotten for the time and fun and laughter took its place during this exciting part of the program.

Mary Stoddard High School Girl Asks Advice About Boy She Likes, Whose Attention Has Let Up

Dear "Wondering," your problem is one typical of the ups and downs of youth. Today it seems vitally important. Tomorrow in all probability you will have forgotten the name of the boy whose inattention worries you. A popular junior college boy who stopped in this morning and read your letter said: "Probably she wasn't receptive enough." On the contrary, I would say perhaps you were too receptive.

The tendency in a girl is to be too agreeable and try too hard to please, when she likes a boy. Then if he thinks he is the "big moment," he is likely to walk off and try new fields.

I would suggest that if possible you get dates with other boys. If you know boys with whom you wouldn't date, but could ask to go with your girl friends, fix up date exchanges so you can be seen with other boys. Then if this boy likes you, he will be jealous and come back to you. If not, there is little you can do.

Remember that keeping your hair clean and neat, your clothes dainty and fresh and your face nice and attractive means a lot. If I can give you any further advice, please feel free to write to me. Her letter follows:

Dear Mary Stoddard: I am a sophomore in Santa Ana High school. I am writing to you as you and your readers give such good advice.

I met a boy about four weeks ago. He seemed just crazy to go with me. We went together a few times and had very good times together. Then he just stopped coming to see me. Does he still love one of his old girl friends or has he a new girl friend, or what? Last time I went with him he said he still liked me. What is the matter?

He is the first boy that I ever really enjoyed his company. Will he come back to me, and if he does shall I go with him? Thanks a lot. WONDERRING.

Animosities in Back of Progress

"Personal animosities between men and nations have done much to change the currents of world affairs."

So said Mrs. Jack Valley to her loyal audience of Santa Ana Valley Ebells society clubwomen yesterday afternoon in Ebells clubhouse. The much-studied Los Angeles commentator stressed the force of public opinion and conflict among leaders and nations as she addressed the group on current world happenings.

How the smaller European countries are waiting for the United States to act on the oil sanctions question was told by the speaker, who maintained that however great sacrifices might be involved, it remains for America to help the cause of neutrality.

Mrs. Valley then reviewed a list of new books and commented on the worth and significance of each.

In the business hour, Mrs. Fred Rowland presided.

Nominating committee members chosen were Mrs. George S. Briggs and Mrs. W. J. Ferrey from the board and Mesdames J. P. Hatzfeld, N. A. Beals and J. Russell Wilson from the general membership.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women

Do you think children of kindergarten age should play together, or should boys play with boys, and girls with girls?

Mrs. L. S. Stevens: I think they all should play together. I asked a little first grade boy that question, though, and he said he just wanted to play with boys. It's better training for the little boys and girls to play together and learn to get along, I think.

Mrs. Charles M. Halderman: I think it's better that they play together if they're supervised. It teaches them to get along together.

STOCKS TAKE TURN FOR BETTER

Number of Issues Rise
Around 3 Points on
New York Market

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—There was a moderate revival of optimism regarding the European situation today and the stock market took a turn for the better.

The list started with an upward flourish that brought rallies of fractions to around 3 points and put the ticker tape behind floor transactions. But profit takers were soon tempted and backing and filling movements followed in quick succession.

Stocks showing advances up to 2 points or so around the approach of the fourth hour included Seaboard Oil, Amerasia, Case, International Harvester, Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, American Can, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, General Motors, Auburn, Western Union, Consolidated Gas, Deere, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, U. S. Smelting, Anaconda and International Nickel.

On the other hand, American Sugar Refining dropped 3/4, Allied Chemical 2 and American Telephone 1. Kennecott and Douglas were also lower.

Gains of 1 to 5 points were scattered over a broad front at the generally firm close. A number of new five-year highs were recorded on the rally. Transfers approximated 2,500,000 shares. Closing prices:

BUSINESS ON COAST HAS HUGE GAIN

By WALTER WARREN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10. (AP)—Business and financial transactions of the Pacific slope used around 2 billion dollars during February.

Thirty cities, in which the bulk of the transactions normally take place, showed a volume of $2,481,333,000 in bank checks handled during the month, the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reported today. This compared with $1,948,232,000 in the 1935 month.

The increase was well over a half-billion dollars, and amounted to 28 per cent over February, last year.

The first two months of this year saw settlements of around $5,152,000,000, compared with roundly $4,064,000,000 in the same period last year. This gain was 26 per cent.

These bank debits are taken by bankers as a quick indicator of general business activity.

All of the 30 cities showed a greater turnover of bank checks "funds" for the first two months of this year than in the like period last year, indicating the spread of the recovery in business.

LIMIT FUNDS FOR EDISON REBUILDING

A resolution limiting the amount of money to be spent on the reconstruction of class rooms at the Edison school to $26,549.96, the existing balance in the Green bill fund was adopted by the board of education last night. This work includes reconstruction of certain portions of the class room building, but does not include reconstruction of the school's auditorium. The resolution was offered by Board Member M. E. Youel. Plans for the reconstruction work were shown board members last night by Fred H. Eley, Santa Ana architect.

Representatives of the firm of Allison and Allison, Los Angeles architects in charge of plans for the Santa Ana High school reconstruction work, discussed plans with the board for landscaping the grounds at the high school plant. No action on the matter was taken.

Vote Architect Fees

The board authorized expenditure of $650 as a fee to be paid the state architect for his work in approving plans for blocks D and C at the high school building project. Approval of plans for block E already have been received, and a fee of $300 paid to the state architect. The approved plans have been presented to the state board of public building reconstruction, and now await awarding of contracts. The contracts for each unit will be awarded separately. Money used in paying state architect fees will be refunded to the district from bond money voted for reconstruction work.

Permission was granted by the board to H. O. Russell, junior college faculty member, to make arrangements for conducting a summer school this year. In the past, the junior college summer school has been under the direction of McKee Fisk, former dean at the college.

Vote Convention Funds

The board authorized expenditures of two evening high school principals, W. W. Weiman and Miss Golden Weston, two junior high school principals, Lyle Mitchell and H. G. Nelson, and Lynn Crawford of the high school and D. K. Hammond, director of the junior college, for attending the annual convention of high school principals at Pasadena, April 2-4. The board also authorized expenditures of necessary funds to send Auditor Harold Yost and George Newcom, secretary of the board, to a convention in Fresno March 19-20-21. The convention is to be for business only and is to be for business only and is to be for business only.

Let's Stay Out!

ASK ANY ten people you meet on the street what they think about war in Europe. Nine of them will tell you before the conversation is over that they hope the United States stays out.

This country has had its fill of war and the aftermath. People clearly remember how greedily the Allies accepted American men and money to win over Germany. And how they then spit on American peace ideals at Versailles, cried "Uncle Shylock" when repayment of war loans was sought, and tried to deprive American troops of proper credit for victories.

It's not likely Americans will shout, "LaFayette, we are coming," if France sends out an SOS again. Once was enough.

In event Europe plunges into another of its insane struggles, we believe that the American public will listen this time to saner voices before jumping headlong into the fire.

One sane voice that was raised in 1917 belonged to Senator Norris, who opposed America's entry into the transatlantic conflict. Still on the lookout, the Nebraska senator warns:

"We have not got over the bad taste of the last war yet. It is now generally conceded that we should not have entered that war. Next time we will be more careful about our neutrality. Our neutrality laws are much stronger than in 1917, and there is stronger public sentiment against war."

"We still have lots of cripples and pensioners and vacant chairs on account of the last war. Nearly every country owes us, and the debts will have a tendency against the future loaning of our credit for foreign wars."

"There might be some sentiment to get into a European war on account of trade gains but the people would put against that the losses in life and even of money."

Senator Gore of Oklahoma is another legislator who protested against the war with Germany. He was defeated because of his anti-war attitude and was not re-elected until 10 years later. Although blind, he sees the situation a lot better than many of his colleagues. He says:

"We can never keep out of any foreign war so long as we permit our citizens to travel upon armed belligerent ships, because whenever our citizens take passage on an armed vessel of a belligerent power its enemy will sink that ship if it can."

"That dramatizes the death of an American citizen. 'Feelings run high. Passions of war take the place of reason. Then, if there be sinister interests which have the sordid purpose of urging this country into war, they do not avow that purpose point-blank. They take advantage of the aroused passions of the American people, they appeal to their patriotism when our citizenship is unconscious of the fact that patriotic emotions are being turned to sordid purposes, and the country is plunged into war."

"It is mob psychology, after all, that makes a war a practical possibility. Wars would seldom be resorted to as a mere matter of reason when passions are not running rife."

War is the greatest curse of mankind. God is forgotten and every principle of decency and civilization is trampled upon. Let's stay out of it.

The difference between a thrifty man and a financier is that the thrifty man has the first dollar he ever earned and the financier has the last dollar other people ever saved.

Unusual Opportunity

IN GATHERING data on which to draft a new liquor law for California, public officials have an unusual opportunity.

It may occur to some of these officials that the opportunity is primarily political. In other words if those who draft the law can placate both the extreme wets and the extreme dries they can achieve a masterpiece in political strategy.

This is no time to mess up the liquor law with politics. Experience should have taught that. If the framers of the law are going to write into it merely the prejudices of minority groups then the new law will be as bad as the old one, if not worse.

There is an element among the framers that wants to study the workings of the British Columbia law and the laws in other countries where they have largely overcome the problem. That seems to be the sensible way.

Full local option also is demanded by some. That would complicate the problem. More local control is needed in the issuance and revocation of licenses but the major responsibility still lies with the state.

The liquor traffic cannot be eliminated or even reduced by fiat. It requires education plus sensible laws and much tolerance and patience.

If you fail to register by March 26 and lose your vote, don't kick if your candidate is defeated.

Safe and Profitable

BETTER times are here. Real estate figures published in two separate stories in The Journal yesterday say so. One article told that building permits in Orange county for the first two months this year are a quarter of a million dollars ahead of what they were for the same period last year. The total for January and February, 1936, is $562,640.

The other reported that ranch sales are increasing, with two deals aggregating $50,000 just completed.

Construction gains and realty sales are sure proof that investments in Orange county are considered safe and profitable.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

The dollar debacle has given New York hotels and shops a British and continental clientele they have never enjoyed before.

Every incoming liner brings a large quota of shoppers to take advantage of a currency favor that creates a saving for foreign buyers.

Such trade is largely in the luxury division—high priced dress makers, tailors, de luxe hotels and restaurants. Never in the history of the metropolis has it entertained so many dukes, duchesses, princes, princesses and counts as it has this winter.

The society page accounts of public dinners reads like a Monday morning guest list of a May-belle Gilman Corey Sunday night soiree at the Paris Ritz. Five ultra hotels have had to add to their French speaking staffs of assistant managers. And 9 o'clock dining is a part of the new order.

This influx of tourist spenders has naturally marked the town with a laquered pleasantness reminiscent of Mayfair and the Place Vendôme. Especially is it pronounced at tea time when tea rooms so long deserted for the intimate bars are filled again. And tea is actually drunk.

The shadowy chop suey restaurants with their private booths, caches for the clandestine, have had tough going since fire swept like flames in dry grass through one of them, leaving eight dead and more than a score injured recently. A searchlight of publicity was turned on the inflammable hangings and tinder box structure of a number. And the human sacrifice may not be in vain. They're being made safer.

The dean of American columnists is Jack Raper of the Citizen and Press. He is about the only one, too, whose entire career is coupled with his first columnar job. His "Most Anything" was launched 36 years ago and thus Raper has the oldest column running in one paper under one name, done by the same person, in America. Raper's daily contribution is mostly humorous fluff, eminently tolerant and flecked with sound philosophy. Its endurance proves its worth.

The wing collar for full evening dress has become almost a burlesque of the collar worn by the minister and man. For several seasons it has been growing in height and size of tabs. And now it comes almost to the ear lobes with an especial upward swoop in the back. Until people become a little more used to it, the only description is: outlandish. Even Beau Nash, the fashion falcon of theater programs, admits it is now a fixture and nothing can be done about it. Prince Obelinsky is reputed to have achieved the most gargantuan effect to date with Harry Silvey a runner-up. As usual, the new English King launched the new collar, proving his kingship has not shorn him as style's arbiter mundi, whatever that is. It was a book.

The actor Louis Mann was first to make the huge gates ajar collar a trade-mark. His conception was enormous, as was a later version by Tony Biddle. But both were pigmies compared to this newest monstrosity. Al Bedell, the gown merchant, is another of the high collarists, clinging to the checker so dominating the handsome dogs pen-and-inked in Charles Dana Gibson drawings. Bedell's were said to be the highest collars ever made. Dan Dorfman once tried to buy advertising space on them.

Churchill's old stand "For Rent" on a Broadway corner is symbolic of the vast changes in the neighborhood. When Captain Jim Churchill retired from the police force to buy the site and open his restaurant it was believed choicest in the Lobster Belt. When Churchill quit, the various rentals promised an income of $50,000 a year. No one knows what happened. The corner simply went dead leaving the gap of a lost tooth.

There was a Cartoonists Table at Churchill's, where such lingers as Tad, Macauley, Ketten, Corey and other big shots used to loaf. Now and then Homer Davenport joined them. And Bud Fisher, who had just come into important money with "Mutt and Jeff." I went in one day and sat at a nearby empty table to catch a few peeks at the notables. A waiter handed me a wine card and poised expectantly. I ordered a whisky sour, downed it and on the way, feeling quite sporty, paid $5 down on a light tan paddock coat, you know, sloping in just so at the waist and flaring, hot diggedy, at the hips.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Revenue raising is only the secondary objective of the President's tax program.

Its chief purpose is the distribution of static wealth; to force into use billions of dollars lying idle in the coffers of corporations.

The germ of this underlying social motive was enunciated by Roosevelt in his surprise tax message last May, when his target was large inheritances.

Since then he has done considerable reading on the subject of taxation, particularly four slender volumes: "Brass Tacks" by David Cushman Coyle; "Income and Economic Progress," "America's Capacity to Produce" and "America's Capacity to Consume," the last three published by Brookings Institution.

The central theme of these studies is that the accumulation of idle surplus reserves is clogging economic recovery.

It is at this blockade that the President is battering with his tax program. He believes that if the piled up hoard of undivided corporate profits (estimated by treasury experts at $4,500,000,000) can be forced into movement, the result will be a tremendous infusion of purchasing power, with consequent benefits to business and employment.

The New Deal policies of dollar devaluation, government spending and loan guaranteeing were all aimed toward this end. The tax plan is the latest, and in some respects the most revolutionary, of the President's experiments in this basic economic problem.

ADVOCATES

Three of the younger inner circle advisers had much to do with crystallizing the President's views on the tax program.

They were Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the board of government of the federal reserve system; Herman Oliphant, general counsel of the treasury, and Robert Jackson of the internal revenue bureau, recently promoted by the President to be assistant attorney general.

As early as the fall of 1934 Jackson urged on the President a drive against corporation surplus. Eccles, a banker and industrialist, also had long favored such a program. Oliphant added his voice when the supreme court made a new tax measure necessary, by unbalancing the budget when its order returning the $500,000,000 impounded processing taxes.

SURPRISE

The nature of the President's tax program was a carefully guarded secret. It was a complete surprise to Democratic congressional leaders.

There was a good reason for this wariness. All of the old-line leaders were opposed to any kind of new tax measure. They favored only a re-enactment of the processing taxes in a new guise. Their big argument was that political strategy and expediency barred tax legislation in election years.

Applied to a bill that digs down into the pocket of the man in the street, their theory is sound. But the President's program doesn't do that.

As one veteran senator expressed it, "The scheme is the answer to a politician's prayer. It not only does not affect the average person but has the added attraction of socking operations. That's always popular. Further, the great mass of stockholders will be for it because it means more dividends."

Twenty-Five Years Ago

MARCH 10, 1911

Spurgeon's nail was well filled last evening by an audience, which thoroughly appreciated the recital given by the kindergarten of the conservatory of music, under the direction of Miss Carolyn Haughton. Little Miss Evelyn Trickey made the hit of the evening in her solos and chorus work when the class wore night-dresses and caps and carried candles. Being heartily cheered, the tiny little miss singing the solo parts.

A silver medal oratorical contest will be held in the high school auditorium next Friday evening. The contestants are seven young ladies from the eighth grades of the First street, Third street and Lincoln schools. Those entered in the contest are Hazel Ross, Ella Davis, Marjory Shaw, Lottie Morris, Ruth Kohler, Ethel Coffman and Isabelle Anderson.

E. L. Vegely has filed his petition as candidate for election to the office of city assessor, and his card announcing his action appears in today's paper. Mr. Vegely is an expert accountant and has had much experience with one of the most competent assessors in the county, and asks the support of the voters in the city on the grounds that he is well equipped to fill the office satisfactorily.

Twenty-five or 30 residents east and west of Santa Ana river below First street had a strenuous night of it last night, for they were engaged in a battle with the storm water in the river, trying to keep it within the river banks. A 400-foot break occurred on the sewer farm and another on the east side of West Seventeenth street.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Neutrality Bill Only Makes World War Nearer

THE PRESIDENT signs the extended neutrality bill and thereby brings nearer the possibility of world conflict. The amended measure gives added life of 14 months to the present law. It prohibits loans as well as the shipment of munitions to belligerents and to neutrals for reshipment to warring powers.

And then it does something of real menace to future goodwill. It exempts from embargo any country in the New World which is attacked by a non-American nation, but applies if the American nation aligns itself with any old world powers in war activities in the western hemisphere. This all seems innocent enough, but closer inspection shows that seeds of trouble are hidden in it.

Two definite blows at world comity came from this revised neutrality bill. The Monroe Doctrine, cornerstone of American policy in the new world for more than a century, is quietly abandoned. And the League of Nations, mankind's best promise for decency in world affairs, gets a body blow which knocks it dizzy. Just so are the pillars of Wilsonian democracy laid to rest by its renegade successors in these latter days.

What Other Editors Say

EFFECT OF GRAND JURY

(The Brea Progress)

Citizens in general are now awaiting the action of the county supervisors on the recent recommendations of the Orange county grand jury. There are those who say nothing will be done. The Progress believes the county supervisors will give them every consideration. For the supervisors to do otherwise would be to ignore the fine work and the earnest efforts of the jurors, and would prevent serious efforts on the part of future juries. It would make obvious the charge that already the county set-up considers itself immune to and above investigation, suggestion or advice.

The grand jurors are called to make investigations and to learn if there is any weakness of any nature in the county set-up. If they do otherwise, they are violating their oaths and the purpose of being called together. If they determine there should be recommendations, then they are obligated to make them. And after the recommendations are made, the county officials are just as obligated to give them heed.

After the grand jurors had completed their report, this recommendation to the county supervisors was added: "Secure impartial and competent experts to review and report on our recommendations that a modernized accounting system should be installed (in Orange county) to replace present antiquated, inefficient and inadequate system now in effect."

Thus the county supervisors are urged to check the recommendations of the jury itself. There could be nothing fairer.

In closing their report the grand jurors said: "In conclusion, may we state that while our activities as a grand jury have brought upon us adverse criticism directed towards the defect and cure of our investigations, we have honestly and sincerely tried to perform our sworn duty to the citizens of Orange county. We have endeavored to: first, reveal any and all existing inefficiencies of local governmental administrations without regard to the personalities involved; and second, we have given the most earnest thought in effecting a solution towards the constructive correction of these faults."

"If our recommendations will receive the serious consideration which they deserve, then we believe that the expense and personal sacrifice incurred by this grand jury will be more than justified by increased efficiency and a substantial reduction in the cost of county government."

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

The midnight ride of Paul Revere must have been an exciting experience. There is much more comfort in the midnight rides you take these days, that is if you know where you are going. But if you get in with "Brick" Grouard and Hunter Leach, operators of the police radio patrol car, the anticipation of your destination leaves some room for doubt. Under the guise of good Samaritans they offered to take me to the postoffice, and they did after covering the regular patrol. If you want to go some place don't get in with Grouard or Leach, unless you have plenty of time. For awhile I thought they were operating one of those Tanner tourist tours.

Press reports are to the effect that the Germans and the French are now only separated by a river. That's about close enough to throw hard grenades. If they can't make it we can loan 'em Walter Johnson, but no money.

If you can get any pleasure out of the 1933 earthquake today is your opportunity. So far as I am concerned, I would like to forget it. It took me almost a week to get my clothes off. Wanted to be ready to go some place and where did not matter just so the earth wasn't doing a hula. Remember grandson was down to my house that evening imitating Tarzan, but he got over it awful fast. There was an airplane going over and it's the first time in my life I wanted to take a ride. The memory of that incident still lingers, but there isn't the slightest trace of any desire for an encore. The farther away the better I like them.

There are two things I like about fire alarms. I like to let the other fellow ride, and stand on the sidewalks. Most of my friends appear to prefer the middle of the street.

Frank Briggs is withholding some information. For several days he hung out a sign notifying the public that the window in the cafe on the Fifth street side was broken. Since that time it has been replaced and Frank, so far, has neglected to notify the public that the new glass has been installed. One good sign deserves another.

So far I have been unable to acquire any satisfactory information as to turf club pay-offs, although the question has been sounded to me on numerous occasions.

Olaf Larson of Garden Grove has driven a car over 20 years and has never had an accident. Far be it from me to take away any of the glory from this record, but at the same time I hope that Olaf does not encounter some of the highway insanity that has come within my observation.

The way Europe is acting looks like it's about to turn 20 years color again. Ben Manker has the red and white. Maybe he can get the blue on Mondays. That's the proverbial blue day.

Some member of the highway patrol, whose name slips my memory just now, and the slip is intentional, tells me that E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California state highway patrol, is to address a local luncheon club meeting in Santa Ana. He should be introduced by Kenneth Morrison. It is a golden opportunity.

Ben MacMullen appeared before an audience recently and delivered an address on the automotive industry. He loaned his notes to a friend a few days before he was to appear. The friend failed to get back the information in time for Ben's address. The result was that he made the best talk of his life without them, but what he said about some people neglecting to return what they borrowed was not included in his remarks.

Charley Chapman sends me this clipping: "The God of Heaven He will prosper us, and we His children shall arise and build." Now you know why Charley is in the lumber business. But another point to this quotation is that you won't get anything done sittin' down. You must "arise."

An evangelistic sedan was cruising about the streets of Santa Ana Monday, with Bible verses on the sides and rear. Many stopped to read the verses who haven't looked into a Bible since they went to Sunday school. There is something permanent about the scripture. We never forget it, or the early lesson of childhood taught to us by mother. No matter how far we stray in our adult age, what was taught us in the formative period of life stands like the rock of ages as convincing testimony of purity and guidance. Verses of scripture appearing in public places always catch the eye, and often convict a delinquent soul.
